

SOLDIER BONUS
TANGLE IS YET TO BE SOLVED

Matter Laid Aside Until Next Week When Work
Will be Resumed

STILL SEEK FINANCES

Hope is Expressed That Bill
Will Be Agreed Upon
By Committee.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The soldiers bonus tangle was laid aside, today, until next Monday by Republican members of the house and means committee. Next week the committee members will search for the "painless" tax to raise the needed funds.

Cessation of work by the committee did not stop agitation of the troublesome problem among members of the house. Republican leaders were busy with a poll of state delegations to ascertain how Republican members would line up on a general sales tax.

The former attitude of many members towards a sales tax has undergone a change since it became evident that there might be no bonus, if no sales tax. It is understood from reliable sources that President Harding favors a production manufacturers' sales tax.

Ways and means committee members said this would be easiest and cheapest to collect because it could be taken at the source and would not require an army of special employees.

The position of the Republicans on the committee with respect to a sales tax was uncertain, today. Rep. Frear, Wisconsin, is the only one in revolt against the tax. Suggested alternative plans of raising the bonus cash provide for payment from the treasury out of savings from reduced expenditures for the army and navy and short term treasury certificates, an excess profits tax and increased taxes on large incomes, and short term treasury certificates to be redeemed by foreign loan interest payments. Each of these plans had been rejected by the ways and means committee.

The five way bonus bill has been agreed upon by the committee and will be ratified by a formal vote on Monday before the committee settles down to consideration of the revenue feature.

"We will get up a bill to which Republican congressmen can give their assent and support," was the confident declaration, today, of Chairman Fordney, but he admitted he did not know what taxes would be carried.

Some members of the house, Republican and Democrats, have thrown up the sponge and are ready to let the bonus bill die for the session.

Sentiment Divided Over
France's Debt Position

Senate Regards Statement of Former Minister of Devastated Regions Regarding Inability to Pay Debt As Significant.

Washington, Feb. 18.—Sentiment was divided in the senate, today, regarding the flat statement that France can never pay her war debt to the United States which was made at Paris by Louis Loucheur, former minister of the French devastated regions before the downfall of the Brand government, and now a member of the French chamber of deputies.

The suggestion by Loucheur that France might liquidate her debt by an exchange of French and American goods was considered significant in view of the fact that he was largely instrumental in arranging the Weissenhof agreement for similar exchange between France and Germany.

Considerable weight is attached to Loucheur's utterances in view of the important position he occupies in European affairs as a financier and economist of the first rank. It was expected that he would attend the recent armament conference, but Briand's downfall is said to have prevented Loucheur from coming here to urge that the American government participate in an international economic conference.

Loucheur's statement, that France "cannot pay now, cannot ever pay," was received by senators with manifest interest.

Senator McCormick, Republican, of Illinois, member of the senate foreign relations committee who recently charged that France's inability to pay was due to a badly balanced budget, resulting from her maintenance of a large standing army, said:

"The loans made to European governments by the United States were made in good faith and when they were made no Russian or other conditions were attached to their payment. The payment of the interest due from the several European states is of more immediate moment to the taxpayers of this country than the ultimate payment of the capital sum of the debt."

"To the amount of the interest annually due us from Europe, and unpaid, the American taxpayer is paying for European armaments and civil establishments. But more than that, the depreciation of currency in Europe and the instability of exchange, in so far as they are caused by excessive public expenditure, and the resultant governmental deficits, directly and immediately contribute to the unemployment of American workers and the depreciation in prices of American products, agricultural and manufactured."

"The American people are patient, but they know that they are suffering because of trans-Atlantic political and economic conditions which may be improved, if not cured, provided certain European governments are willing."

MARGIN OF VOTES
ELECTING LEWIS
MAY BE SWELLED

Last Ditch Fight Is Staged On Friday Night.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 18.—John L. Lewis, international president of the United Mine Workers, triumphed today over Alexander Howat's insurgent faction in the miners' convention.

The union chief was victorious in a test of strength with the fiery leader of the Kansas "outlaw" miners getting, according to complete unofficial returns 2,069 votes as against 1,966 for Howat.

Throughout last night a last ditch fight was staged with victory and defeat in the offing. The Lewis forces marshalled their complete strength for a round up of the 150 votes, realizing that a substantial number were needed to make their victory of yesterday complete. "Get one hundred," was the slogan of the Lewis banners as they started early and kept in motion until late a drive that has all appearance of success.

The Howat crowd was not inactive. There was just the bare possibility of turning a narrow defeat into victory and with the prize big and the opportunities unlimited, they confined their final efforts on almost complete round up of the absent voters.

Lewis regards the fight as over. Howat and Farrington, under the surface, take a similar view. Lewis sees in the results a vindication of his administration but his opponents regard it as the beginning of the end of the reign of Lewis.

DEFENSE POOR,
MAN PARDONED

Denver, Feb. 18.—Acting Governor Earl Cooley has pardoned Lafayette Jones, who was convicted in 1907 on charges of horse stealing in Aguilar because the acting governor said Jones had "not been properly defended."

As a young attorney, Cooley himself defended the convicted man.

"The conviction of Jones has been worrying me all these years," said the acting governor, after signing the Jones pardon. "I always was convinced he was innocent. I was a young inexperienced lawyer at the time and I am convinced it was the poor defense of my client that sent him to the penitentiary."

TAYLOR'S VALET
SAYS HE KNOWS WHO SLAYER IS

Letter Purporting to Come
From Sands Received
By Prosecutor.

OFFERED IMMUNITY

Old Charge Against Man
Will Be Dropped If He Comes Forward.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 18.—An arrest within a few hours was one of the possibilities that developed today as the investigation of the William Desmond Taylor murder mystery took on fresh impetus following disclosure of a mass of new and important evidence.

Detectives left police headquarters hurriedly today on secret missions following a conference with District Attorney Woolwine at an early hour. The detectives refused to state where they were going, admitting only that they were at work on the Taylor case and on fresh clues.

It was understood that the possibility of an arrest, hinged on the success of the mission of the investigating officers.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 18.—Just as the William Desmond Taylor murder was about to be placed in the classification of "unsolved mysteries," a fresh maze of developments, today, directed the spotlight once more on the investigation.

Edward F. Sands, former secretary valet of the slain film director assumed the center of the investigation through a mysterious letter to District Attorney Woolwine in which he asserted his innocence and declared he could place responsibility for the murder.

"I did not murder Taylor, but I know who did it," said the letter made public by Woolwine. "I can untangle the murder mystery for you."

And in response the prosecutor immediately published a promise of immunity from prosecution on an old embezzlement charge if Sands will give himself up, prove that he is innocent of the Taylor murder and give aid in determining who killed the film director.

The letter declared Sands was in Los Angeles.

May Be Genuine
"The purported letter from Sands may and may not be genuine," said District Attorney Woolwine, today.

"My reply through the public press will serve to test its authenticity. I have no means of knowing whether it is a hoax, but I desire to leave no clues unfolded and no lead uninvestigated."

Captain of Detectives David L. Adams, who has held throughout the investigation that Sands holds the key to the murder, declared today that every effort will be made to locate Sands here but he was inclined to believe that, if the letter actually came from Sands, it had been mailed here as a blind and that Sands was in hiding elsewhere.

Police were reported, today, to be anxious to question a taxi driver who has been listed as missing since Feb. 1.

In connection with their routine investigation of his disappearance they learned certain facts which aroused their suspicions. One of the things they desire explained is his whereabouts on the night Taylor was shot.

His alleged possession of a revolver similar to that from which the shot was fired that took Taylor's life was also a matter of investigation.

ONLY TWO HUNDRED THOUSAND ADMITTED
TO U. S. IN 6 MONTHS

Washington, Feb. 18.—Only 200,121 immigrants were admitted to the United States during the last six months of 1921, the department of labor announced today.

If there had been no restrictive immigration law the number would have been limited only to the number that the steamship companies could have brought over," Secretary David said today.

"The lowest types of the countries of Europe and Asia were preparing to move, almost en masse, to America," the labor secretary added. But Congress stopped this immigration by enacting the three per cent immigration law. The number of immigrants that can land the present fiscal year is 355,825.

Of the European countries, Italy furnished 36,829, the largest number during the past six months. Poland furnished the second largest number, 26,225, while the Czechs were third with 19,728. Hebrews constituted the largest number of immigrants, there being 36,852 of them admitted during the last six months of 1921.

The records show that 2,182 Chinese and 3,089 Japanese were admitted while 3,913 Chinese and 2,584 Japanese emigrated.

The number of German immigrants was 9,752 although that country has a total quota of 68,839 for the fiscal year.

At the height of this fighting late in 1921, it was reported that Greek troops would be sent into southern Albania, but so far as known this military movement was never executed. Greece is already at war with the Turkish nationalists and the states of Thrace (formerly part of Bulgaria) is involved in this dispute.

TO RELINQUISH
JURIST OFFICE FOR BASEBALL

Will Step Out of Federal Court Position On March 1.

COMES AS SURPRISE

Duties of Two Offices Are Too Arduous Is Reason Given.

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Judge Keneasaw Mountain Landis, probably the best known jurist in the United States, resigned his position as judge of the United States district court, today. He will relinquish his office on March 1.

His resignation was forwarded to President Harding in the mails, today.

Judge Landis retires from a life position as a U. S. jurist, to devote his entire time to organized baseball, of which he is high commissioner.

The judge was 55 years old on November 20, last.

Fifteen months ago Judge Landis accepted the place of baseball high commissioner at an annual salary of $50,000. Protests against his retirement from the bench at that time led him to decide to attempt to administer both his baseball and judicial duties and as a result his contract with the baseball major league was revised so that his judicial salary of $7,500 per year was deducted, leaving baseball to pay him an annual stipend of $42,500.

Fifteen months' trial of the arduous proposition of holding down both his place on the bench and the baseball job has convinced the judge that it is too arduous.

Vigorous opposition to Judge Landis sprang up soon after he announced his acceptance of the position of baseball commissioner. A concerted movement apparently was launched to force him to retire either from the baseball job or the bench.

Largely through the instigation of Senator Dial, of South Carolina, and Rep. Welby, of Ohio, since retired, an attempt was made to bring impeachment proceedings against him in congress. The action in the house was started on the basis of his holding employment outside of his judicial capacity. Senator Dial took umbrage because Judge Landis leniency in the case of a 19 year old defaulting bank teller of Ottawa, Ills. Judge Landis release the young man on his own recognizance after learning of his meagre salary and condemned bank officials for entrusting the handling of large sums to one so inadequately paid. Senator Dial vigorously criticized Judge Landis for what he regarded as an abuse of his judicial prerogatives.

Judge Landis was appointed to the bench by President Roosevelt on March 28, 1905. In a little more than a month he would have completed seventeen years of service in the judiciary branch of the government. His vigorous methods and outspokenness made him an outstanding character—almost a national institution.

Washington, Feb. 18.—The resignation of Judge Landis from the federal bench at Chicago came as a distinct surprise to President Harding when the announcement of Landis' proposed retirement was made to him at the White House by the International News Service. Landis' letter of resignation has not yet been received at the White House, but the belief was expressed by officials that the Chicago jurist's desire to give his entire time to organized baseball would be fulfilled by the prompt acceptance of the resignation by the president.

CHANGE OF LIFE WOMAN'S TRIAL

Proof That Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is of Great Help at This Period

Metropolis, Illinois.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it is all I claim to be and has benefited me wonderfully. I had been sick for eight months with a trouble which confined me to my bed and was only able to be up part of the time, when I was advised by a friend, Mrs. Smith, to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills. I was so much benefited by the use of these medicines that I was able to be up and about in two weeks. I was at the Change of Life when I began taking the medicines and I passed over that time without any trouble. Now I am hale and hearty, do all my housework, washing, ironing, scrubbing, and cooking, all there is to do about a house, and can walk two or three miles without getting too tired. I know of several of my neighbors who have been helped by your medicines."

Mrs. EMMA CULVER, 705 E. 7th St., Metropolis, Illinois.

BANDITS MAY BE THOSE WHO WORKED IN XENIA RECENTLY

Possibility that the two men sought by Wilmington and Clinton County authorities, for the slaying of Emory McCreight, Wilmington policeman, may belong to a party wanted here for an alleged attempted burglary and gun fight with special Policeman George Spencer several weeks ago, is now rumored.

Patrolman Spencer in a conversation with Sheriff Will Kirk of Clinton County, confirmed the rumor that the description of the two men wanted in Wilmington corresponds with the descriptions of two of the men discovered by him in an alley in the rear of the Witham grocery, East Main Street, and at whom he emptied his revolver in giving chase, after surprising them in the alley.

Health Talks

ABSCESS IN THE EAR

In this trouble (which doctors call acute suppurative otitis media) there is great pain in and around the ear, which lessens when the ear drum is burst through, high fever, ringing in the ears, deafness (usually only partial), and, after the perforation of the drum, discharge of pus from the ear. Dry heat alleviates the pain. Warm water may be syringed in the ear, but don't put in anything else. If the nose is filled with tough secretions, spray it with salt and warm water (2 1-2 teaspoonful of the tumblerful).

If the pain keeps up over six hours in a child, or 12 hours in an adult, the doctor must positively be called to puncture the drum, under ether. Smear the parts about the ear with vaseline to avoid chapping, and gently mop off the discharge as it appears. Under such treatment the ear usually returns to normal in two or three weeks.

TODAY'S TALKS

ALL OF ONE WEAVING

Truth and fact are basic—in quite the same way as all folks are human beings.

If you could sit in a great room full of people temporarily blinded as to sight, and could just listen to the thinking from the hearts of each, what matter would it be as to the color or race or creed there just so long as you were touched or uplifted by what you might hear and feel.

Humanity is simply one great cloth after all. We are all of one weaving. I think it was Elbert Hubbard who once wrote: "Do your work—and be to Mother Nature for advice and counsel. For her thoughts mingle with eternal affairs. She is never irritated over catastrophes—either great or small."

Each of us may learn most from the little child, no matter how much we may know.

Worth, genuineness, character, supremacy of thought, are born in the soul. Like the "gentleman born," Tawdry trappings and acquired elegance in outward coverings deceive only the unawakened.

"If you would know life, you must really live it."

And that means that you must walk with and be one with it in feeling and sympathy and understanding. Of course, the crowd will many times not understand. That gives you the chance to lead the crowd. But don't leave it!

Remember that we are all of one weaving. In strength and weakness we travel much alike.

From the Pacific to the Atlantic ocean, between Canada and the United States—a distance of several thousands of miles—not a single gun or sentry is posted! The attitude of the two great countries is one of mutual trust. The two talk the same language. The history of Europe is but one story of wars. Not a country touches another but their peoples talk a different language. And today each mistrusts the other. Yet human beings of the same weave make up each country's life.

Never get discouraged because you seem to be doing the work that looks menial and unimportant.

The piccolo player performs on the smallest instrument, in the orchestra, but should he drop out of discord, the trained ear of the leader would immediately notice it.

One of the most successful dance frocks of the season, and at the same time the simplest and easiest made, is this one of orchid crepe chiffon, with pearl and glass beads to trim the very wide girdle of self-material. There is first a slip of the chiffon, made with a long straight bodice and round armholes, over which is hung the dress itself, which is entirely open at the sides. All the edges are self-bound, and the looped bands, too, are of the same material.

If a less severe effect is declared, the bodice may be embroidered with the beads, and the design may be further elaborated by beading the long bands—a task which the woman who sews at home is not very apt to undertake, I venture.

I have also seen this same idea varied by creating a quite irregular hem. This was accomplished by permitting one corner of the back tunic and the opposite corner of the front tunic to hang in a point giving the effect of a skirt longer at the sides than in the back and front.

TO SEEK CONSENT OF ROCKEFELLER

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Consent of John D. Rockefeller, grandfather of Miss Mathilde McCormick, will be sought before any announcement of the engagement of the 16 year old daughter of Harold F. McCormick to Max Oser, proprietor of a riding academy in Switzerland will be made, it was said today.

The attitude of the world's richest man toward an alliance between his grand daughter and the 48 year old master is not known.

Harold F. McCormick, the father, is expected to arrive here this afternoon from New York with his elder daughter, Muriel. He is quoted in dispatches from New York as saying that his only concern in the affair is his daughter's happiness. Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, the mother, has refused comment on the reports of her daughter's engagement.

MOTHER SUPERIOR SAVES MANY LIVES

Chicago, Feb. 18.—Eighty children of St. Joseph's home for the friendless owe their lives today to efficient work of the mother superior and nuns. When fire was discovered on the fourth floor of the home, where the children were asleep, the nuns rescued the children. They then returned and fought the fire so effectively that when the fire department arrived there was little work for it to do.

AN "UNCLE JOE" CANNON INCIDENT.

While "Uncle Joe" was Speaker of the House his picturesqueness focused attention on it. Besides, he would not even hesitate at a trifling violation, if he was sure he could get away with it. For instance, the roll was being called one day unexpectedly on a bill that the Republicans had been sure to pass, only they hadn't expected the vote to come so soon and were mostly being hunted around town by the sergeant-at-arms. The roll was called as slowly as possible, but the Republicans didn't come in fast enough, and the Democrats had the majority. When this unhappy result was announced by the clerks, Uncle Joe, cigar tilted at its famous angle, ordered the roll called a second time. Twenty angry Democrats leaped hissing and sizzling into twenty different aisles.

"Why does the Chair order the roll called a second time?" shrieked John Sharp Williams, the Democratic leader.

"The Chair will be honest with the gentleman," replied Cannon, taking his unlighted cigar out of his mouth. "The Chair has ordered the roll called a second time because the Chair is hoping a few more Republicans will come in."

Before that delightful audacity all opposition gave way. Republicans and Democrats roared with laughter, Williams leading, as he and his score of men, mad with fury a moment ago, dropped into their seats again.

"TRUST IN THE LORD AND DO GOOD, AND NEVER WORRY."

On the eve of his seventy-ninth birthday anniversary, the Rev. Dr. Russell H. Conwell, celebrated Philadelphia preacher, lecturer, educator and author, Wednesday gave his rule for success in life, and a prescription for longevity. This rule, which he has followed daily for sixty years, may be summarized as follows: "Trust in the Lord and do good; and never worry."

Dr. Conwell's birthday celebration began with a big reception in Temple University at 9 o'clock. The students of this great institution, which began with two scholars to whom Dr. Conwell gave instruction in the evenings and now has an enrollment of 8,300 students, will shower honors and gifts upon their beloved leader.

In the evening the congregation of Grace Baptist Temple honored their distinguished pastor. Six hundred persons attended the annual birthday dinner in the Lower Temple and listened to praises of the man who, beginning with a small, run-down church forty years ago, has lifted the Baptist Temple to first rank among the Baptist Churches of the Nation.

Seated in his office at the Temple, Dr. Conwell talked of prohibition, the future of the Church, the Disarmament Conference, the soldiers' bonus, movie scandals, women in politics and many other questions now in the limelight.

Dr. Conwell disapproves of levying any taxes to pay the soldiers' bonus. "Taxes always fall upon the poor man," he said. "You may put them on the railroads, but they will pass them on to the consumers. In order to pay the soldiers' bonus, the United States ought to issue bonds against our foreign debts, payable when England and France pay us. I cannot see why Congress has not adopted this plan, since it is obviously the right thing to do."

STARTING SOMETHING.

Life's capital prizes never go to the timorous. Large enterprises never are put in charge of those who fear to initiate. In every calling there are those so reluctant to assume the burden of executive responsibility that they never will enjoy the glow of satisfaction that comes from carrying through a successful effort to its victorious conclusion.

Men held in honor, and likewise rewarded by those tangible tokens that matter less than a good name, are men who were willing to leave the safe, easy, settled things and places and be original. They weighed anchor and spread sail forever to the breath of fresh adventure. They sought not to let go but to take on. They were not looking for those to whom they might unshoulder the burden of command. They rose each day with a gladness to be needed, in counsel and in control, as prime factors in some ongoing work of real and lasting value.

Unskilled laborers may go dully to a task, coming on and knocking off in the mechanical routine of hours bought and paid for. These may leave all thinking to those higher up and reserve for themselves the right to protest against the terms of their employment. The employed who has the glimmest chance of joining the ranks of the employers is the one who is satisfied to mark time in a fixed place on the payroll without doing anything to enlarge his value to the concern that employs him. You need not look to him for a new idea. He does not even wish to be foreman; he would rather blame than take the blame.

A successful young salesman, aggressively on the alert to every chance of putting his wares on an enlarging market, said to an older relative of his who was an office clerk with the same company: "Why don't you go into the factory, in some of the time when you're sitting idle, and learn about what we're making and how we make it?"

The older man did not kindle to the idea. Instead, he looked at his junior and said coldly: "That is not my department; it's none of my business." The clerk is earning less than $2000 a year; the salesman is getting $12,000 a year. But the second man makes it—which is a very different matter from merely receiving it.

BAREHEADED GIRLS.

The girls in the home economics class at Akron University figured out a clothes budget of $346.50 per year for the well-dressed college girl. It allows seven dresses, two coats, four pairs of shoes, two skirts, two blouses, two sweaters, three pairs of gloves, five pairs of hose and miscellaneous articles.

What we want to know is, doesn't she wear any hats? And what has become of the old-fashioned girl who always had to wear her winter coat three seasons?

DO YOU KNOW?

Moving pictures are to be shown in the death house at Sing Sing on the night before each execution. It is believed that the diversion will relieve the nervous tension of the condemned men.

LET'S SEE, "NO FOREIGN ENTANGLEMENTS" AND "AMERICA FIRST"—NOW WHAT COMES AFTER THAT?

1902--Twenty Years Ago--1922

A number of Xenians will be in attendance and will appear on the program at the Reformed Church convention to be held in Dayton this week.

Bids for supplies at the U. S. and S. O. Halls were opened at the recent meeting of the Board of Trustees, and although the bids came from almost everywhere H. E. Schmidt, the well-known Xenia auctioneer, came in for a lion's share. The Lone Star Social Club gave a dance at the Knights of Pythias Hall, last evening.

The city wants the return of its sewer farm which was sold to a New York man, recently for taxes, and a formal demand has been made by the city solicitor upon the auditor for a remittance of the taxes and a recall of the sale of the property.

WAYS OF DIETING

Someone said that there are a hundred ways to reduce. Fat can be boiled off—you see this every day in the steam rooms of Turkish baths. It can be baked off—electrically heated ovens come so gruesome in appearance they would have delighted the leaders of the Spanish Inquisition. It can be dropped off—the market is full of patent prescriptions guaranteeing to make you young and slender even while you eat everything your fancy dictates in as great quantities as your stomach will hold.

Lastly, it can be taken off by the much more natural process of being re-absorbed into the system. Bears and all other hibernating animals do this over the winter. The camel does it when he stores up fat for his long trip into the desert, and man can do the same if he only exercises his will power.

I always remember the story of the Parisian banker weighing some hundreds of pounds who filched all the money he could and then fled to a small town. He spent every day in a Turkish bath literally boiling the fat away. After some weeks he sent for his wife who did not recognize him. Certain that no one else could, he boldly went out into the streets, only to be arrested at the next corner, not as the runaway banker but as a strange and suspicious object of humanity. It was evident to the police that he had once been fat, for dry skin hung in folds all over him, so they locked him up and fed him starch and when he filled out again they knew who he was. The wonder is that he lived through such a violent treatment. Reducing should be slow as well as sure.

Gabriele—The shade of your hair has not been affected by cutting it. It merely appears to be darker from the excessive secretions of the scalp. It will be improved by more frequent shampooing, but do not resort to using a bleach.

Bobbed hair sometimes becomes oily and slinks to the scalp in less than a week after washing it. At such times shake a little talcum powder into it to absorb some of the oil, after which brush it out.

The reason for this condition is the fact that the scalp is secreting enough oil to keep long hair in health, so with the shortened hair there will be an excess to this unless it is kept

HAD THAT TIRED, WORN-OUT FEELING

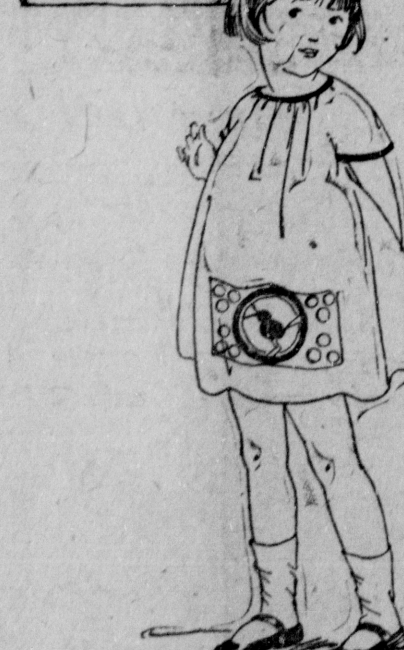

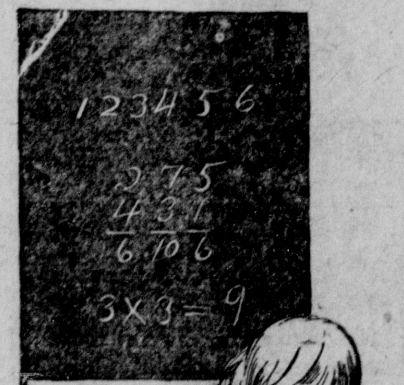

Do you know that "awful tired feeling," languidness, lame or weak back, sore muscles, stiff or swollen joints, or rheumatic pains usually indicate kidney trouble? Foley Kidney Pills act promptly and effectively. Mrs. Roberta Lilly, 709 Alton St., Alton, Ill., writes: "For three years I had a tired, worn-out feeling. Various treatments failed. I began to improve on the second dose of Foley Kidney Pills and today I feel like new." Sayre & Hemphill.

brushed out or washed oftener than needed when the hair is long.

Interested—The treatment for the skin which is known as a "mud pack" is an application of a mixture of ingredients that cleanses the pores and acts as an astringent. It is used more among the barbers than beauty specialists. It should always be followed by generous application of cold cream as it dries out all the natural secretions. Even the following day if the skin feels parched apply more cream and keep this up until the tendency to dryness has disappeared.

Styles BY LENORE

The cleverness of a little frock conceals itself behind an immense pocket, the advantages of which cannot fail to impress even the slightest girl. It is stamped in the gayest of red, blue and yellow flowers in the kind of pattern which may be brought in the usual embroidery shop. But to return to the dress itself. It is so simple that a ten-year-old can make it. For the pattern is cut on just one straight strip of material, in this case sunny yellow cotton voile. Crescent slashes admit the little arms and form a cap sleeve, and the frock remains open behind to facilitate laundering. The edges may be buttonhole stitched or finished with beads.

BRYANT AUTO SALES COMPANY TO SELL LINCOLN MACHINES

E. R. Bryant, of the Bryant Auto Sales Company, announced Friday, that the Lincoln motor car, would be sold through the local agency, beginning March 1. The sale of the Lincoln car by the Ford Company, is the result of the purchase by Henry Ford of the properties of the Lincoln Motors Company for $8,000,000, February 1, at a receiver's sale.

Mr. Leland, who was head of the Lincoln Motors Company, remained with the company in that capacity since Ford's purchase of the plants. A cut in the price of the Leland products ranging from $800 to $1,200, was announced at the time of the sale. The complete policy of the Ford company, and prices, will be followed in the sale of the new machine, according to the announcement of Mr. Bryant.

CLOSING SERVICE AT CHURCH ON SUNDAY

The closing meeting of the series of evangelistic services, conducted for the past three weeks, at the First Methodist, Episcopal Church, will be held Sunday.

The Friday evening service, which was set aside as "Sunday School Night" marked one of the largest meetings of the series, a number of the classes of the Sunday school attending with their teachers, and presenting different short exercises. A number of decisions were also made during the service.

At two-thirty o'clock, Saturday afternoon, the members of the Junior Choir, will enjoy a picnic in the basement of the church, planned by Mr. Wileand. Mr. Wileand will meet the members of the Epworth League Sunday evening at 6:30 o'clock. For the last time, preceding the regular preaching service at 7:30.

RUSSIAN LEADER LENINE NOW ILL

London, Feb. 18.—Nicolai Lenine is ill and is understood to be suffering from cystitis, according to information received from Moscow by members of the soviet Russian trade mission today.

It was regarded as likely that Lenine's physical condition might have had something to do with the decision not to attend the Geneva economic conference. A report that Lenine had relinquished control of Russian administrative affairs at Moscow was denied by the bolshevik trade mission here. Members of the mission said that Lenine had departed from Moscow temporarily and was living in the country but was in touch with members of the central soviet daily.

'Twas Ever Thus.

I wear my silken shirts and scarves, and shoes that cost twelve bones, and somewhere some poor aleck starves, and sends up anguished groans. I eat long strips of costly pie, and drink imported tea; and hungry reubens amble by, and doubtless snarl at me. I ride around in my sedan, whose price was pretty steep, and pass some sore and seedy man who has no place to sleep. Oh, is it right and is it just for me to ride in state, while, blinded by my smoke and dust, toils on some hapless skate? Am I a sinner when I eat, or buy a gorgeous lid, or clothe my large but shapely feet in kangaroo or kid? Would there be less of poverty, of sorrow and despair, if I should from the fleshpots flee and fill a hermit's lair? I doubt it much; the wail of woe would rise from people riled, if I should let my whiskers grow and in the woods run wild. If I quit buying shirts and hats, with my spare chicken-feed, some girls in crowded city flats might lose the jobs they need. The boss would say, "There's been a slump in spangled shirts and socks, and so I shoo you to the dump, and pay you no more rocks." It's hard to know just what to do, in this cheap vale of tears; the thing that looks all right to you, to me a frost appears.

Today's Talk

by George Matthew Adams

Pass On! When you have done the best that you can and know—pass on.

Life must be viewed as something ahead. To be satisfied, and then to stand still, means failure.

Those who stay with a sinking ship must go down with it—losing their chance for being rescued by neglecting to grasp their first opportunity to leave.

No matter how big a mistake you have made—pass on. Acknowledge your errors, if necessary, but don't carry them with you as a part of your equipment.

The traveler is to be happily envied because he never stays long enough in one place to grow weary or tired of his surroundings. And he may carry on with him all the beauties and fascinations of each place.

Every minute life is passing on. We must be urgent in the things we do so as to get as done as possible.

But pass on without regrets! And try to leave things behind that will continue to add cheer and gladness long after you have passed.

Aim to live a permanent life. For Eternity is made up of the best and happiest which the Here and Now creates, through you and through me.

Let the crowd wrangle if it will—but you pass on. Gather the essentials as you go, and build big. Cleanse your heart of every imagined wrong—and pass on!

HELD UP SATURDAY MORNING ON PIKE CLOSE TO XENIA

Henry Shaw, Old Town, was robbed of $102 by three hold-up men operating on the Springfield pike near Xenia, early Saturday morning, according to a report made to police.

Shaw said he was driving a horse and buggy toward Xenia from his home in Old Town at 6 o'clock Saturday morning, when encountered the highwaymen on Moorman's Hill, two miles from Xenia.

According to the victim, the three men had stopped their automobile along the side of the road. As he approached one of them, caught the bride of his horse, stopping it, while another threw a gun in his face, ordering him to throw up his hands. Shaw agreed, and one of the men relieved him of his wallet, containing money.

Following the daring hold-up, the three bandits hopped in their automobile and started toward Springfield. Shaw turned his vehicle and returned to Old Town, and did not report the holdup to police here until shortly before nine o'clock. Springfield police and authorities in other cities were notified to be on the lookout for the men.

Can It Stand More?

Motor transportation pays over $300,000,000 in special taxes annually. The Ways and Means Committee bonus tax proposals would add $120,000,000 more in gasoline and horsepower levies. Motor car and motor truck owners are protesting to Washington that they should not be called upon to pay one-third of the bonus cost, which, if voted, should be paid by a general tax bearing equitably upon all.

FIND MASTADON BONE NEAR CREEK

Frankfort, O., Feb. 18.—A large bone, believed to be that of a mas-adon, was found on the banks of North Fork of Paint Creek, a few days ago by John Kuntzman and is now on display in the window of a local bank.

The bone measures 12 inches in diameter at the joint end and the smallest part is fully seven inches in diameter. It is 30 inches in length and evidently from a bone of many feet in length. It weighs 30 pounds.

Several years ago a tusk more than seven feet in length was found near the scene of the recent find, and it is believed that the mammoth bone and the tusk came from the same animal.

FORMER XENIAN IS CALLED BY DEATH

Charles Neave Lupton, 68, former Xenian, died suddenly at his home, 218 Rockwood avenue, Dayton, Friday evening at five o'clock. Mr. Lupton had not been in good health for three weeks, but continued at his employment. He left his place of business, Friday afternoon at four o'clock, and stopped briefly at a neighbor's house on his way home. Mrs. Lupton was attending a church meeting at the time and when she returned at five o'clock, she found her husband reclining on a couch, dead.

Mr. Lupton was born in Cincinnati, May 20, 1853, and came to Xenia with the National Cordage company from Miamisburg in the fall of 1892. He lived here eleven years, but has been in the manufacturing business in Dayton since 1904 and was connected with the Liberty Tool and Production company in that city at the time of his death.

He is survived by his wife, a

The hall was prettily decorated in crimson and steel, those being the class colors and also carrying out the idea of valentine with large red hearts.

Music was furnished by the high school orchestra which the jolly crowd enjoyed.

At 11 o'clock, strains of Home Street Home were heard and the Sophomore galley was a big success.

On Thursday morning the High School was assembled to give the Basket ball follows a rousing good send off as they were leaving Friday afternoon for a northern trip.

Coach Katherman told of the fight they would have to make to win but they were going with a determination to win. The boys left here Thursday afternoon for Mr. Katherman's home town to play there on Thursday evening. Then on to Piqua Friday to try to win the hardest game of the season. They were to play a whirlwind game with odds against them.

Saturday morning they went to Ohio Northern at Ada where they will be the guests of the fraternity of which Katherman is a member, returning home Sunday sometime.

XENIA PEOPLE ARE IDENTIFIED WITH TRACTOR COMPANY

Xenia people are financially interested in The Lincoln Tractor & Implement company, incorporated for $1,000,000, which has purchased the plant of the North American Chemical Company in Urbana and six adjoining acres of land, and will start the manufacture of tractors, there, soon.

Rial T. Parish, of Dayton, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Weddle of East Third Street, is president of the new company, and Eugene D. Smith, brother-in-law of Mr. Parish is a member of the board of directors. Fritz Sauer, of this city, is understood, is financially interested in the corporation, which is made up mostly of Dayton and Urbana business men.

George L. McConnell, H. N. and R. W. and R. W. Kirby and W. R. Wilson, associated in the operation of the Chemical plant, become stockholders in the new tractor concern through the purchase of the former plant. The company's officers and board of directors follows: R. T. Parish, Dayton, president; George H. McCracken, Urbana, vice-president; Lawrence H. Norton, Urbana, secretary; Joseph Link, Dayton, treasurer; Emilie H. Rump, Dayton; Eugene D. Smith, Xenia; J. H. Best, Dayton; O. W. Norton and H. N. Kirby, Urbana. Another director will be named later.

Of the million dollar stock issue, $450,000 in preferred stock, par value $100 bearing eight per cent interest annually and cumulative will be floated, and the rest will be common stock, $50,000 worth at $25 a share. It is planned to sell in units of one share of preferred and two shares of common stock for $150. J. C. Riley, Lima, will be in charge of the stock sale and will open an office in Urbana.

The Lincoln Company plans to manufacture a "two-way" tractor plow, which it has been exhibiting, demonstrating and testing for some time. The tractor has three speeds, either forward or backward and with a double set of plows can work faster, cover more ground and reach the "fence corner wastes" without any more work than the ordinary kind, it is claimed. The machine also has three speeds on its belt pulley and the first tractor made weighs 5,000. The company expects to reduce this weight to 4,500 pounds.

Two years have been consumed in experimental work by the company in Dayton. A recent severe test was given when the tractor plowed up the race track at the Greene County Fairgrounds, the track being packed and hardened to near-rock formation. The chemical building acquired by the company will be enlarged by the erection of a 100 by 150 foot machinery building and a foundry for steel and grey iron casting. The company will employ 250 men and have $350,000 annual pay roll.

CAR SERVICE WILL RESUME MONDAY

Beginning Monday morning, the local street car, will begin making trips to the East End at twenty minutes after each hour, according to the announcement of officials of the D. S. and X. Traction Company.

The car will make trips to the O. S. and S. O. Home, on the hour, and twenty minutes before, according to the announcement. Tickets may be purchased from the conductor at five for twenty-five cents. The cash fare remains at seven cents.

JINX AGAIN SPELLS DEFEAT FOR XENIA HIGH SCHOOL FIVE

Piqua High School basketball team and the narrow confines of the Piqua basketball coop, knocked Central High for a row of brick walls and bumped heads at Piqua Friday night, outstaying the locals by a 42 to 28 score.

The pastime was staged in a walled up pit, that did not permit the blue and white tossers the usual free action of arms, legs and heads which they enjoy on the Rink floor and when the ambulance backed up there were three casualties reported.

Captain Paul Boxwell set up the first shout for the first aid troop, although his illness ante-dated the entrance in the Piqua bull pen. The blue and white leader became ill before the game, so that the services of a physician had to be called in at his hotel. He played throughout the game however, winning commendation from the sidelines. Yeakley and one of the seven or eight walls that surrounded the place, not counting the ceiling, came together next and the third victim was sought, but none being found. Yeakley finally recovered, with little ill effects beyond a bad bump on his head.

Piqua's large, rangy and fast five lived up to all advance notices and the pessimistic predictions of Coach Jerry Katherman, who saw them in action before. They gave the locals no end of trouble, while the defense that the local mentor had built up to stop them, covered too great a space for the tiny floor, and was crippled and next to useless. At that the Central five outplayed the Piqua in the second half after finishing on the short end of a 22 to 7 count in the initial period.

Gegner, at forward, was the shining light of Coach Katherman's toasters. This lad refused to let the floor or the walls bother him, and he scored more points than any player on either team, lopping in eight sensational field goals and garnering 6 out of 11 chances at the foul line. His dribbling and floor work was also good. Neyer sparked for Piqua with seven field goals and four fouls.

The game opened up athletic relations between Xenia and Piqua and local fans will be pleased to know that Piqua appears here next year in both football and basketball. The lineup and summary:

Xenia—28 Piqua—42
Gegner L. F. Graham
Vannorsdall R. F. Neyer
Boxwell (c) C. Johnson
Yeakley L. E. Barlow
Douthett R. G. Pennod
Substitutions: Xenia: A. Currie for Vannorsdall; Reutinger for Yeakley. Vannorsdall for A. Currie. Field goals: Gegner 8, Vannorsdall 1, Yeakley 1, Boxwell 1, Neyer 7, Graham 6, Johnson 5. Foul goals: Gegner 6 out of 11; Neyer 4 out of 11. Referee: Pugh, Piqua Y. M. C. A.

WILL NOT FURNISH ANTITOXIN FREE

Urbana, Feb. 18.—Antitoxin administered to diphtheria patients will no longer be furnished free of charge by the county health board it was announced by County Health Commissioner Dr. H. Dickson.

The announcement was made following the receipt by County Auditor W. B. Crim of a ruling by Attorney General Price in which the attorney general says "the district health board is required to furnish antitoxin in all cases where it has a fund available for the providing of same."

The section of the law which was interpreted in this manner by the attorney general reads: "Each district board of health shall provide free distribution of antitoxin for the treatment of diphtheria and shall establish sufficient distribution stations to render such antitoxin readily available to all parts of the district."

Because City Solicitor H. H. Banta, and City Health Commissioner Dr. David H. Moore construe this law in a different manner and believe that the law is mandatory in its instructions to boards of health to furnish free antitoxin treatment, the action taken by Dr. Dickson will not be followed by the city of Urbana, it was announced by Health Commissioner Moore.

According to statements made by County Health Commissioner Dickson and County Auditor Crim, the attorney general rules that antitoxin must be furnished only when funds are available and that by being available he means that the board must have set aside a special fund in its budget for that purpose.

Anne Stillman Leaves For Paris

"Good-by, my darling little baby brother!" Miss Anne Stillman buried her face against the rosy cheek of Baby Guy, in whose behalf his mother is now scouring the frozen Canadian wastelands. She almost smothered the youngster with kisses. Baby Guy, over whose advent into the world one of the greatest American divorce cases has been instituted was at the pier to see his sister off on the steamship Finland. With him at the pier were his brother and staunch champion, "Bad," and his ten year old brother, Alexander. Miss Stillman sailed to attend a private school at Paris, with Frances Davison, daughter of Henry P. Davison and Alice Woodhouse. All three girls arrived here several weeks ago to attend the wedding of Miss Davison's sister, Alice.

MAYOR PUTS BAN ON BOXING BOUTS IN WASHINGTON C. H.

Washington, C. H., Feb. 18.—Mayor V. J. Dahl has announced that the ban would be placed on boxing in this city.

His announcement followed a meeting of women at which Rev. K. B. Alexander announced that Mayor Dahl had told him that boxing would be stopped.

When pressed for a statement as to his attitude Mayor Dahl announced that the ban would be placed on boxing stating that was his belief that it had not been conducted according to law, and that he did not recollect of giving his written permission as required by law.

In connection with the matter Promoter Palmer issued the following statement:

"I regard to talk on boxing I have little to say. I do know that some of us are talking so strong against it. I myself have noticed that they carry the players off of the field and have two doctors on the field with their medicine cases and bandages. Even in baseball in this city I know of one leg being broken. As far as I am concerned I like all sports, and know accidents happen in all of them. If some of the people of Washington do not want them, they do not have to attend them, as a future protection to our Honorable Mayor I won't say that he can stop them."

It is stated that the move against boxing started at a recent meeting of the Ministerial Association, Rev. P. J. Hones and Rev. Karl B. Alexander later speaking from the pulpit in opposition to boxing in this city.

Efficient Housekeeping

BY Laura A. Kirkman

THE HOUSEKEEPER WHO TAKES TIME TO READ

"I wish I had more time to read!" I often hear housekeepers say, "I haven't read a book in so long that I don't know who are the modern writers are. I can't find time to read even the daily paper."

Whenever I hear such a confession as this I always have a momentary fit of discouragement. For, the housekeeper who does not keep abreast of the times through reading, is not taking her housekeeping as a profession.

Have you ever known a professional who could afford to become a "back number" by not reading a doctor or a lawyer, for instance? Or have you ever known a successful business woman who could not give you a resume of the day's news without a paper before her? I haven't.

These professional people are personalities. They are "somebodies" and cannot afford to let the world catch them napping mentally. Their very success hangs on their being "live wires" and upon their ability to hold their own among other people of brains.

And that is the attitude the housekeeper should have. She, too, is a hard-working woman and she should dignify her work by bringing all of her intelligence to it. Otherwise she lets her work fall from the professional class to the drudgery class.

I love to see a group of women discussing some important topic of the day, and see a housekeeper among them, voicing her opinions and showing, by the keen light in her eyes, that she has made a study of the subject under discussion and finds enjoyment in exchanging opinions about it. There is a picture of the ideal housekeeper!

But let me tell you a little story, to better illustrate my point. A friend of mine, a wife and mother who "had no time for reading," invited a successful business woman friend to spend the week end with her. During one of their chats together, the business woman started to ask her hostess whether she had read a book of new poems by a rising modern poet, then she stopped short and said, "But you housekeepers don't have time for such things, do you? You are always thinking of malds and meals and the more practical things of life."

That hurt my Housekeeper Friend. And it implanted resentment in her heart, too. It made her begin to read as hard as she could. She declared that, after that, she was going to make it an impossibility for anyone to assume that a housekeeper cannot be as up-to-date and as well-read as any other type of woman.

And that is the attitude we should all hold. We should let the world see that we, too, are professional women, as wide-awake as women in any other line of work. A few minutes a day, snatched away from our crowding duties, and devoted to reading, will work the miracle. And the more we read the more hungry we become for other books—and a new world is open up to us.

It is a law of life that what we put our time into, we love; so even the women who "don't care for books" will in time begin to care for them if she starts reading.

To Be Continued.

HELEN TELLS JACK SHE WANTS NEW FURNITURE

Chapter 43

"Bring some money or take the consequences!"

Helen said that as if she meant it. Well, suppose she did? What she meant by consequences was that she would borrow from one of her woman friends, let her! She had once before—of Mrs. Layton. They all probably urged her to play, let them tide her over when she lost.

Jack hated debt, hated the thought of borrowing even when it seemed necessary. And to borrow for a card debt seemed to him almost wicked. He would do the very best he could, try doubly hard to write policies, then give Helen the money to repay Mrs. Layton, or whoever Helen borrowed of, as quickly as was possible.

He worked with this thought in his mind. But luck seemed for the time being to have entirely deserted him. His prospects would not be nailed down to signing an application, to being examined. They were busy, or not quite convinced, or—something else. What matter the reason. He could get no business.

He drew a little on account from the obliging general agent with whom he did his business; not enough to give Helen any save for house-keeping needs; that he must give her.

"Hello, what makes you so late?" she asked as he came in to dinner.

"Been writing another big policy?" "Not so's you could notice it!" he replied gloomily. Helen was looking particularly bright and animated. It grated on him in the discouraged mood he was in.

"What do you mean? Haven't you done anything again today?"

"Not a damn thing!" The word now frequently escaped Jack, and not always with an apology, as at first. It discouraged.

"Well, you are a fine insurance sort of gave vent to his feelings—his agent! I'll bet Howard Dunn gets plenty of business, and the other agents too." When Helen was excited she cared little about her speech, "I'll bet they don't go home day after day with hard luck stories. Come on let's eat. Dinner is almost cold now."

All through her little tirade her voice had held its tone of raillery. He almost wished she would get angry, then he could also. He felt angry—down inside, although in justice to Helen he had to admit he had no reason just then.

She took her place at the table, talking of all the little happenings of the day, either oblivious of his distress and discouragement; or not caring—probably the latter, Jack thought.

Mrs. Layton came in this afternoon. Her husband has just been advanced again. They are going to move next month. She is so excited over it. They are going to sell everything and furnish new. How I do envy her! What are you going to do? As Jack rose from the table, "You aren't listening to a word I say!"

"I'm going to heat up this coffee. It's stone cold."

"Well, hurry up! I've a lot more to tell you."

As Jack resumed his seat after heating the coffee, and looking with disgust upon the disordered kitchen, she went on:

"Now please listen! The Laytons are going to sell every single thing they own, and you know they have some nice things. I told her not to let a thing go until we took what we wanted."

"That lovely living room table and lamp, and those two easy chairs, and several other things are just what we need. She'll let us have them cheap too. I suppose we've got to stay here until you get more business, but perhaps we can make it a little more attractive if we have some new—even if they aren't quite new—better things."

"What we have is good enough, and our rooms are full enough now with—" out getting in any more furniture," Jack replied.

"I shall sell some of our trash."

"You thought it good enough when we bought it."

"I never did! But it was the best we could do. But now that we are going with nice people, people who have things, we have to keep our end up."

"We can't buy anything now, Helen. I had to borrow of Drake, just enough for your house money; ask an advance and it isn't good business."

"We have got to have those things! I won't let such a chance slip through my fingers."

"Then you'll have to earn the money to pay for them!" Jack declared as he rose from the table, hoping that would finish the discussion, yet knowing down in his heart that it would not.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.
